

Ready for risk

eLearning Training

Cost-effective online health and safety training for your employees

Our eLearning provides a comprehensive range of online health and safety training modules and resources for employees. Topics range from reporting accidents to first aid to working at height. And they're all available on the NIG Risk Assist portal.

Why use eLearning?

It's essential your employees know about their health and safety responsibilities, along with the most common workplace hazards. Risk Assist's eLearning provides a cost-effective way to train your staff in health and safety and prevent accidents. It's especially useful for widely dispersed workforces, or where class-based training isn't practical, or training budgets are tight.

The key features

- Designed to make learning easy, enjoyable and effective.
- Unlimited user accounts for your entire organisation, whatever size, at no extra cost.
- Assign courses to staff, monitor progress and issue certificates to successful candidates using the comprehensive administrative suite.
- Approved and accredited by Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (RoSPA), Continuing Professional Development (CPD) and mapped to National Occupational Standard (NOS)* providing credits towards relevant NVQs.

Health and Safety training course subjects include:

- Accident Reporting
- Slips, Trips and Falls
- Health and Safety Law
- Electrical Safety
- Workplace Assessment
- Hazardous Substances
- Manual Handling
- Fire Safety

*National Occupational Standards are approved by UK government regulators.

The key benefits

- Easy online access – in the office or on the go.
- Complements in-house training, helping to reduce costs.
- Helps protect staff and reduce accidents by raising awareness of workplace hazards.
- Reduces the need to pay for costly consultants and formal assessments.
- Certificates produced for each course, speeding up the accreditation process.
- Supports formal qualifications and licensing – for example, apprentices, operational staff, promotions, skills upgrades.
- Creates a reliable audit trail in case of legal actions and claims.

Log on to nigriskassist.com to find out more, or speak to your broker.

If your broker has already registered your account, you will receive an activation email to begin.