Managing Driving Risk

Helping fleet managers and businesses manage Occupational Road Risk

Our Managing Driving Risk system helps fleet managers and businesses tackle Occupational Road Risk (ORR). It provides a bespoke set of remedial actions to ensure legal compliance, and allows drivers to complete and upload individual audits which you can monitor centrally.

Why use Managing Driving Risk?

Driving at work is now the single biggest safety issue facing UK industry. More than a quarter of all road traffic incidents may involve somebody who is driving as part of their work*.

To tackle this issue, the Government has introduced Corporate Manslaughter legislation. And with various police initiatives and existing Government legislation, employers simply can't afford to ignore occupational road-risk issues. Directors and Senior Managers who fail to adequately manage their 'duty of care' for employees that drive, face large fines or even prison.

The key features

- A range of tools, guides, checklists and templates to help you manage the daily risks to your drivers, your organisation and the rest of the public.
- Our Driving at Work content library covers a wide range of topics to keep you and your staff up to date and in the know on aspects of safe driving.
- Audit identifies where your road and vehicle safety procedures are now and where they need to be. Plus, an action plan to tell you how to get there and what you need to do next.
- Regular updates on changing ORR legislation, so you keep your procedures up to date.
- Store your plan and useful documents in one organised and secure cloud-based storage facility, creating a clear audit trail.
